DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
3. Claim 9 recites the limitation "the housing" in 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fliess (774,739).

Fleiss discloses a heated handgrip G assembly with a housing, adapted to be secured to a vehicle handlebar A, the heated handgrip G comprising a grip having a first end adapted to receive the handlebar A, a second end opposite the first end, a grip sleeve G extending between the first and the second ends, a heating element D operable to provide a heat output, the grip sleeve G defining the first outer diameter, and a rheostat F coupled to the second end to control the heat output of the heating element D.

Further, Fliess discloses a continuously manually adjustable dial B1 through a switch-rheostat F, the dial is rotatable about the central axis and having a diameter that is smaller than that of the handgrip G (Fig. 1-2) for the handlebar heater of a vehicle (col. 1, lines 9-15).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 2-7, 10-14 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fleiss in view of Yang.

Fleiss discloses substantially the claimed invention including the dial, but does not teach the dial having ribs defining graduation marks and equally angularly spaced.

Yang teaches a motorcycle controls having a handgrip 14 with a dial 148 with ribs 149 defining graduation marks that are equally angularly spaced and an outer diameter of the dial diameter is smaller than of the first outer diameter of the handgrip 14 and extending from the second end.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to modify Fleiss's dial to add ribs that are equally angularly spaced as taught by Yang (col. 7, lines 6-20) in order to have indicia on the dial so that the user can readily see the adjustment of the heat.

Regarding claims 2 and 3, it would have been obvious for an ordinary person skilled in the art to adjust the outer diameters of the handgrip and the dial at appropriate range as necessary by user.

8. Claims 8 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fleiss in view of Yang and further in view of MacKay.

Fleiss in view of Yang discloses substantially the claimed invention, but does not disclose that the end wall portion of the dial is concave. MacKay teaches a handle 140 having an end wall 144 being concaved (Fig. 6). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to modify the invention of Fleiss in view of Yang to include a handle having an end wall being caved as taught by MacKay because the prior art is reasonably pertinent to the particular problem of gripping the handle in accordance with MPEP 2141.01(a).

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1-16 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

§ 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
